“Catch ideas like fireflies on a summer night, and write what only YOU can write.”

Author Visits * Writing Workshops * Inspirational Talks

A full-time writer and teacher of writing since 2004, author of 21 books, whether leading an assembly of 400 students or a workshop with 6 adults, my goal is to inspire. We “open the jar” and travel to the “firefly fields” inside. We catch what’s sparking, write and share. My style is cheerful and encouraging -- everyone participates. Writing it Right, The Troy Bookmakers, (ISBN 978-1-61468-244-8) An inspirational memoir about the transformative power of writing, co-authored with my poet mother, Peg Spain Murtagh. To support each other through difficult times, we formed a “self-help writing club,” meeting weekly for an entire year. Over lunch or dinner at restaurants in our beloved hometown, of Troy, NY, we read aloud pieces we'd written and found much to be thankful for.
